BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

Roses for the Home
Home and Garden Bulletin No. 25

Roses are probably the most popular of all garden flowers. They can be grown in every part of the country and are adapted to many decorative purposes. This revision describes the various types of bush and climbing roses, tells how and when to buy plants, how to handle plants when setting them, and the various phases of cultivation. A brief section describes the steps in preparing roses for exhibition.

NOTE: Single copies of publications other than those listed FOR SALE ONLY may be obtained free as long as the supply permits from the Office of Governmental and Public Affairs, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Prices are given for the convenience of persons desiring to purchase these publications in quantities and for those who make frequent purchases of government publications. Remittances should be sent to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, except as otherwise noted.

FARMERS' BULLETINS

Controlling diseases of raspberries and blackberries. (F 2208) 18 p. $1.00.

This revised bulletin describes the major diseases which may afflict raspberries and blackberries. It includes information both on cultural and chemical control of these diseases.

Raising geese. (F 2251) 14 p. 90¢.

This slight revision lists breeds of geese, geese management, killing and picking, grading, and marketing geese and feathers.

Solar heating for milking parlors. (F 2266) 15 p. 50¢.

This slight revision explains principals of solar heat collection, gives design guidelines for systems, and discusses other factors that a dairy farmer should consider to conserve energy and reduce energy costs.

HOME AND GARDEN BULLETINS

Roses for the home. (G 25) 25 p. $1.20.
SEE BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

Ants in the home and garden, how to control them. (G 28) 11 p. 70¢.

This revision describes the different kinds of ants and their nesting habits indoors and outdoors. It also explains how ants can be controlled by insecticides in the form of a spray, dust, or granules; how to apply these insecticides; and precautions to take in using them.

Lawn diseases, how to control them. (G 61) 22 p. $1.30.

This slightly revised bulletin consolidates information on lawn diseases and gives the latest information on use of pesticides and herbicides. The most common and widespread diseases are discussed.

Removing stains from fabrics. (G 62) 25 p. $1.20.

This slightly revised publication contains instructions for removing most stains at home. It tells what to do immediately when a stain occurs and what follow-up steps to take.

A guide to budgeting for the young couple. (G 98) 15 p. 90¢.

If you are a young married couple who wants to make a good start in managing your finances, this slightly revised publication can be of help to you. Here you'll find the basic steps for setting up and using a simple workable budget—one evolved from your own experience, tailored to your income and situation, and geared to your individual goals.

Growing peonies. (G 126) 12 p. 80¢.

Peonies are hardy perennial plants. They need little care and live through severe winters. This slight revision tells how peonies grow, how to buy, plant, and care for them. Also included are diseases and insects.

Growing dahlias. (G 131) 8 p. 70¢.

This slight revision discusses the classes of dahlias, their planting, care, propagation, diseases and insects. Dahlias are popular additions to many gardens because they display a variety of sizes, shapes, and colors. You may decide to raise dahlias for show or simply to beautify your yard. In either case you can choose from thousands of name varieties.

Food for the family—a cost-saving plan. (G 209) 21 p. $1.00.

This slight revision is designed especially for families who want to follow the USDA low-cost food plan. Guides for planning well-balanced meals at low cost are included. Simple menus are shown for the food manager with little time for food preparation.

Major hardwood defoliators of the Eastern United States. (G 224) 22 p. $1.20.

Leaf-eating insects periodically defoliate trees in forests, on recreation sites, and in residential areas in the United States. To assist homeowners in recognizing these pests, this illustrated bulletin describes in detail the general characteristics and habits of tree defoliators.

LEAFLETS

Cockroaches: How to control them. (L 430) 10 p. 80¢.

This revision describes the various kinds of cockroaches that are troublesome in buildings. It tells how to keep them out as well as the sprays, dusts, and other methods to use to control them once they get inside your home.

BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

Breads, cakes, and pies in family meals:

A guide for consumers

Home and Garden Bulletin No. 186

This revision describes basic and new techniques for successful baking of breads, cakes, cookies, and pies. It discusses choice of ingredients, pointers on measuring and mixing, methods of preparation, and ways to cut calories. Recipes are given that emphasize use of whole-grain products, an important source of fiber in the diet. For the convenience of the reader, recipes are indexed.

NOTE: Single copies of publications other than those listed FOR SALE ONLY may be obtained free as long as the supply permits from the Office of Governmental and Public Affairs, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Prices are given for the convenience of persons desiring to purchase these publications in quantities and for those who make frequent purchases of government publications. Remittances should be sent to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, except as otherwise noted.

FARMERS' BULLETINS

Strawberry culture: Eastern United States (F 1028) 20 p. $1.00.

Strawberries are an important crop in the eastern United States. This slight revision tells how the plants grow, suitable sites, training systems, varieties, obtaining and care of planting stock, insects and diseases, and chemical weed control.

Raising a small flock of sheep. (F 2222) 12 p. 70¢.

This slightly revised leaflet gives basic information on how to begin sheep raising. Many suggestions are given that will produce two healthy crops a year—lambs and wool—as well as meat for the family.

HOME AND GARDEN BULLETINS

Lawn insects: How to control them. (G 53) 20 p. $1.00.

Many insects and insectlike pests damage lawns. Other pests inhabit lawns but do not damage them. They are annoying, however, and some of them attack people. This revision describes the numerous kinds of lawn insects and discusses appropriate control measures.

Growing figs in the South for home use. (G 87) 12 p. 80¢.

Fig trees make excellent dooryard trees. They are adapted to more soils than most other fruit trees, and they require a minimum of care to produce fruit for eating fresh or for preserving. This slight revision tells how to choose varieties for your area, selecting a planting site, when to plant, when to prune and how to protect them from insect and disease damage.

Controlling clover mites around the home. (G 134) 3 p. 60¢.

This revised bulletin tells the parts of a home that clover mites invade and the areas of the United States that they are most annoying. Sprays are recommended for the walls, foundations, plants, and lawns to prevent these mites from infesting a home.

Breads, cakes, and pies in family meals: A guide for consumers. (G 186) 38 p. $1.50.

See Bulletin of the Month

The gypsy moth: An illustrated biography. (G 225) 15 p. $1.10.

The gypsy moth is probably the most important defoliating insect of hardwoods—especially oak—in the Northeastern United States. This booklet details the insect's life cycle and, through photographs, provides identification of each life stage, from egg to adult moth.

LEAFLETS

The tomato fruitworm: How to control it. (L 367) Folder. 60¢.

This slightly revised leaflet discusses the life stages of the tomato fruitworm; control of dusts, sprays, bait, cultural methods; what to do if other pests occur with the fruitworm; and precautions in the use of the recommended insecticides.

MISCELLANEOUS PUBLICATIONS

Judging vigor of deciduous hardwoods. (AB 418) 15 p. 90¢.

BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

A Guide to Budgeting for the Young Couple Home and Garden Bulletin No. 98

This bulletin will be of help to young married couples who want to make a good start in managing their finances. It contains the basic steps in preparing and using a simple workable budget. This slightly revised bulletin explains why a plan is necessary, how to determine what plan to use, and the steps involved in making a plan.

NOTE: Single copies of publications other than those listed FOR SALE ONLY may be obtained free as long as the supply permits from the Office of Governmental and Public Affairs, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Prices are given for the convenience of persons desiring to purchase these publications in quantities and for those who make frequent purchases of government publications. Remittances should be sent to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, except as otherwise noted.

What Young Farm Families Should Know About Credit. (F 2135) 17 p. $1.25.

Credit can help you reach an objective sooner. Credit enables you to buy or invest when you don't have enough cash. This slightly revised bulletin gives some benefits and risks of credit, reasons for obtaining credit, deciding when to borrow, and deciding how much to borrow. Also included are kinds of loans available and the cost of credit.

HOME AND GARDEN BULLETINS

A Guide to Budgeting for the Young Couple. (G 98) 15 p. 90¢.

SEE BULLETIN OF THE MONTH

Como Comprar Fruta Fresca. (G 141-S) 23 p. $1.25.

This slight revision contains consumer information and handy tips in Spanish, on shopping, information on grades and a consumer's guide to selecting individual fruits.

How to Buy Dairy Products. (G 201) 15 p. $1.00.

This slightly revised bulletin explains how to buy and use dairy products and describes the USDA quality grades that may be found on some manufactured dairy products. Tips are given on nine different kinds of milk and six kinds of cream. Tips on frozen desserts such as ice cream, frozen custard, and ice milk are included. Information on grades of butter and cheese and on yogurt is also given.

The Homeowner and the Gypsy Moth: Guidelines for Control. (G 227) 34 p. $2.00.

The gypsy moth is the most important defoliating insect of hardwood trees in the Eastern United States. Since the turn of the century, millions of dollars have been spent in efforts to control or eliminate gypsy moth populations and to retard natural and artificial spread. This new bulletin covers the life history and life stages of the gypsy moth. Detecting and managing the gypsy moth are also discussed.
